DEMOCRATIC TARDINESS.

SEVERELY REBUKED YESTERDAY BY LEADING REPUBLICANS.

What the Majority in the Last Congress Failed to Do-Henderson, Canuon, Reed, and McComas Put the Blame Where it Belongs.

Among the bills introduced in the Senate yesterday and referred were the following : By Mr. Saulsbury: Joint resolution de-claring that no further effort can properly be made by the United States to obtain the co-operation of European governments in establishing a common ratio of values between sliver and gold as money. Laid on

By Mr. Sabin: For the increase of pen-By Mr. Sabin: For the increase of pension for the loss of an eye.

By Mr. Cullom: To facilitate promotions in the army by retiring from active service officers who have served in the war of the rebellion as general officers of volunteers.

Mr. Spooner offered a resolution directing the committee for the District of Columbia to inquire whether the street railroads of the District are paying their fair proportion of taxes; and whether a tax on their gross earnings would not be preferable to the present mode; with leave to employ a stenographer, &c. Referred to the committee on contingent expenses.

Mr. Hoar offered a resolution requesting the President to transmit to Congress the report of the Pacific railroad commission. Adopted.

Mr. Blair offered a resolution calling on the District commissioners for information

Mr. Blair offered a resolution calling on the District commissioners for information as to the pay, grading, length of service, &c., of the public school teachers of the District. Adopted.

Mr. Voorbees offered a resolution directing the committee on the library to inquire into the advisability of purchasing W. T. Travie's life-size picture of Abraham Lincoln, painted in 1864 5. Adopted.

The resolution offered by Mr. Hale on the 12th of December for a select committee to examine fully into the present condition of the civil service was taken up, and Mr. Hale addressed the Senate in explanation and advocacy of it.

Mr. Hale's speech attracted great and unusual attention in the Senate chamber, few of the seats on either side being vacant during its delivery, which occupied about two

At its conclusion Mr. Butler sent to the clerk's desk and had read a circular sent out in 1878 by authority of the Republican congressional committee (of which Mr. Hale was a member) calling on government employes for political contributions.

Mr. Hale justified the circular, and said that it directly and explicitly excluded the idea of extorting contributions.

The Blair educational bill was then taken up, and Mr. Coke spoke in opposition to it.

Senator Gray, of Delaware, obtained the Senator Gray, of Delaware, obtained the floor for a speech on the same measure, but gave way to Senator Butler for a motion to adjeurn, which was carried at 3:45 p. m.

The Speaker, as the first business in order. proceeded to call the committees, but no reports of any character were submitted. The House then, on motion of Mr. Mills. of Texas, went into committee of the whole (Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, in the chair) upon the state of the Union for the consid eration of the President's message.

Mr. Mills offered a resolution referring the message to the committee on ways and The resolution was agreed to, and, the committee having risen, its action was con-firmed by the House.

Mr. Randall, from the committee on ap Mr. Randall, from the committee on ap propriations, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for a schedule of all claims allowed by the accounting officers of the treasury under appropriations the balances of which have been exhausted or carried into the surplus fund under the provisions of the act of June 20, 1874.

Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, in speaking to the resolution, laid down the general proposition that Congress should make an anticipatory appropriation for the payment of the claims, and Mr. Reed, of Maine, inquired whether Mr. Readall would permit the House to vote upon a proposition to make such an appropriation.

Mr. Randall disclaimed any power to prevent the vote being taken—a disclaimer which had little weight with Mr. Read who

Mr. Raudall disclaimed any power to prevent the vote being taken—a disclaimer which had little weight with Mr. Reed, who gave it as his experience that the gentlemen from Pennsylvania very often had the power to prevent votes being taken.

The resolution was adopted and the House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Cox, of New York, in the chair) on the little designer, bull the little deficiency bill.

Mr. Burnes, of Missouri, in charge of the bill, made a statement in regard to the failure of the deficiency bill in the last ses-sion of the forty minth Congress owing to the fact that it was not laid before the President in time to receive his signature. At that time the committee on conference had agreed upon a report, and that report had been substantially followed out in the pending bill. He hoped that unless there was a case of extreme argency resented up one would extreme urgency presented no one would attempt to engraft upon the bill anything which could be postponed until the urgency deficiency bill was reported to the House, which would be in the course of ten days.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, also stated that the committee on appropriations had taken the conference report of the last Congress as the basis of the present measure, and he hoped that it would be passed, and passed hoped that it would be passed, and passed speedily, substantially as it was, thus giving to the creditors of the government the poor pittances to which they were entitled. Mr. Burnes, of Missouri, said the Scnate had been dilatory, or the bill would have passed in time for the President to sign it. Mr. Henderson, of Jowa, said that the record would show that the last deficiency bill had passed the House on the lat of March, three days before the adjournment. It had been until that late day under the control of the majority of the House. On the 3d of March the Senate—doing in two days what it had taken the House committee three months to accomplish. If critidays what it had taken the House commit-tee three months to accomplish. If criti-ciem must come, let it come against the custom which prevailed of holding appro-priations back until it was impossible for the other branch of the national legislature to give them proper consideration.

to give them proper consideration.

Mr. Milliken, of Maine, inquired what was the purpose of bolding back the appropriations.

Mr. Henderson replied that he only discussed facts. He did not enter into the motives of men. He let the facts be known, and the intelligence of the American people would not fall to find the motives.

Mr. Reed, of Maine, criticised the past actions of the committee or appropriations, and Mr. Burnes made an attempt to defend them.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, gave a brief sketch of the history of the Choctaw claim, and scored the Democratic party for falling to pay a just claim of over $2,000,000, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent, out of a treasury which was so full that the Democratic executive did no know here the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment was coing to see vident to see the covernment to see the cov

Mr. McComas, of Maryland, defended the committee on appropriations from the charge of being dilatory in its presentation of appropriation bills, and laid the binne for the tardy passage of measures upon what he termed the constitutional and characteristic delay of the Democratic ma-jority. The bill was then read by para-graphs.

On motion of Mr. Burnes an amendment was adopted appropriating $100,000 for the payment of judgments and awards against the United States on account of damages caused by reason of the improvement of the Texas and Wisconsin rivers.

Mr. White, of New York, offered an amendment providing that on every item appropriated in the bill there shall be paid to the respective payees interest at the rate of 6 per cent. from the 4th of March, 1887, to the date of the passage of this set. He said that to a freshman in this school there had been many revelations made to-day in regard to the way in which business had or had not been done at the last session of

had not been done at the last session of Congress.

It was a grave question as to which side of the House had been responsible for the fallure of the bill, but it was certain that it had not been the fault of the creditors. If there parties had been debtors the government would have demanded interest even to the extent of taking their property by process of court. Even-handed justice, to say nothing of honesty, required that the government should do of it own free will what it compelled its citizens to do by process of law.

The amendment was ruled out on a point of order.

The committee then rose, and the bill was passed.

The House then, at 4:30, adjourned.

THE WOOL INTERESTS.

Some Difficulty Experienced in Secur ing Harmony of Action. The committees appointed at the Wool Growers and Dealers' Convention, held in this city last December, met yesterday at the Riggs House to formulate some uniform course looking to tariff legislation protecting the wool interests.

The committees consist of thirteen delegates from the Wool Manufacturers' Asso-clation and five members each of the Wool Growers and Wool Dealers' Associations. The committees have quite a contract on hand to harmonize the several conflicting interests, as the manufacturers want free wool and a higher tariff on manufacturer's worsted goods, while the growers insist on worsted goods, while the growers insist on the present tariff on raw wool, or else no tariff on anything. As the proportion of manufacturers to growers is as one to a nundred, the growers propose to go as they please. Each committee held a secret session in Each committee held a secret session in the forenoon, and all met in joint session at 2 o'clock, and proceeded to permanent organization, as follows: President, George L. Converse, Chio; first vice president, E. H. Ammidown, Utlea, N. Y.; vice presidents, John McDowell, Theodore Justice, W. E. Cowdin, E. D. Wright, A. C. Miller, John Phillips, ir., and W. C. Benedict; secretary, H. L. James; assistant secretary, William Batteson. By a resolution adopted early in to day's session the proceedings of the conference will not be made public except by direction of the whole conference.

The afternoon was spent considering plans of defense, but an adjournment was had until 10 o'clock to day, without reaching any conclusion.

until 10 o'clock to-day, without reaching any conclusion.

Last evening the wool growers and wool dealers met and formulated a tariff basis, and will submit it to the convention to-day. If satisfactory the manufacturers will accept it. It is highly probable, however, that owing to the conflicting interests involved an agreement will not be reached until the last of the week.

In conversation with a prominent Philadelphia manufacturer last evening, it was learned that so far perfect harmony has

During the evening the members congregated in little groups in the rotunds of the Riggs House discussing the situation, and the President's attitude on the wool question.

Riggs House discussing the situation, and the President's attitude on the wool question.

"Why," said a prominent manufacturer, who can write his check for millions, "Fresident Cleveland is utterly mistaken as to the tartiff. He thinks things will be cheaper. Now, I'll just give you one instance, and it will stand as an illustration for all interests. Take the article nickle, selling for $4 a pound. The duty was $2 a pound, and it sold for $4 a pound here and $2 a pound in England. As soon as the duty was off England sold it here at $2 a pound, and forced our people to sell it at $2 a pound, and forced our people to sell it at $2 also, finally resulting, in the case of one manufacturer, in closing up his works, selling his plant, and the discharge of 500 employes, earning from $15 a week upwards. It was insanely sapposed that the price would remain at $2, but, after American industry had been crushed, England promptly put the price up to $4, where it is to-day. The great advantage of protection is simply and solely that it gives Americans in business a market for their goods."

INDUSTRIOUS LADIES

Working for the Success of the Grand

Army Fair. The ladies comprising the Grand Arm fair committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Grand Army Hall and much interest was shown in the cause for which they had enlisted. Mrs. Senator logalis was chairman, and among the sixty ledies present were also noticed Mrs. Gen. Hawley, Mrs. Gen. Black, Mrs. Gen. S. Burdett, Mrs. Gen. Logan, and Mrs. Senator Dolph. A number of committees reported and everything looks encouraging for the success of the fair. The sub-committees were instructed that no one was to solicit funds or material except those having books properly numbered, signed, and countersigned by the chairman and secretary of the Grand Army executive committee. The working meetings are to be held every Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. much interest was shown in the cause for every Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. until the beginning of the fair.

Public Buildings and Grounds. Col. Wilson's monthly report of operations on public buildings and grounds states that a blue flagging walk has been laid from the southeast gate of the white house to the Treasury Department. In the nursery 40,000 young echerias and 5,000 lilles of the valley are in boxes, and the propagation of choice plants is being continued. The viue parlor of the white house has had the furni-ture regilded and upholatered in blue plush. New plush curtains have been hung up. Fifteen of the dining room chairs have also been upholatered.

been upholatered. Hushing Up a Scandal. There is considerable commotion in the Department of Justice over a scandal likely to become public at any moment. A check, which has been declared to be a forgery, forms the ground work for the story, and investigation of the matter is now in progress. Effort is being made to suppress the matter, but it is liable to be published when least expected.

Templar Officers Installed The newly-elected officers of De Molay Commandery, No. 4, K. T., were duly installed last night. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of the fraternity.

CAPITOL NOTES.

Senstor Morrill was much better yesterday and will be ready for business in a day or two. The committee on foreign affairs will pay heir respects to Secretary Bayard this morn-

Chinese question.

The keeper of the House resignment will be appointed to day by the committee on public buildings and grounds.

A call was made upon Secretary Whitney yesterday by the mentions of the fronce continuities on naval affairs. Henry T. Lyle, for some time chief page of he House, has resigned his nosition and ha-cen appointed clerk to the House committee in nominatures.

A vigorous effort will be made early this ses-ion to expend some of the surplus on the cree-ton of a cessary public buildings in a large number of cities.

A large number of newspaper correspondents occupants of the press gallery, will attend, by invitation, the diplomatic reception at the white house to-day.

A resolution was offered yesterday by Sens-ter Chendler instructing the judiciary com-nuitive to singuite into the suppression of col-cred votes at Jackson, Miss. cred votes at Jackson, Miss.

The manimous regard of the House military committee on Mr. Boutelle's rebel flag resolution will be made to-day by Mr. Townshend, and it will probably cause some full.

coming inspection. Company B feels proud of the fact that it will be the first to be inspected, which is set for Friday night, and Company C for the Tuesday night following. Every night, except Saturday, the companies will drill.

While the privates were doing their duty, Gen. Ordway and Col. Bigelow were busy in Col. Moore's private room conducting the school of the officers. The attendance was quite large, and the recitations on the tastics developed the fact that the officers have studied well the lessons assigned them. A visitor seated among the officers remarked that "no military scademy could show better recitations or more instructive lectures than were to be heard in this school." This compliment from a stranger was much appreciated.

The most interesting meeting held was that for the election of a licutenant colonel of the lat regiment. Capt. E. D. Townsend presided, and the choice fell on Capt. W. N. Daiton, of company A, W. L. I. C. Congratulations were showered upon this officer by his companions, and as soon as the news reached the drill room the enthusiasm of the infantry men was not slow in manifesting itself. Capt. Dalton soon after his election came into the drill room to take charge of his company, and he was warmly greeted.

Immediately following this election came

Immediately following this election came that of major for the 4th battalion. Capt. Thomason, Dr. George A. Bentley, and Capt. Gale were the candidates. After balloting several times Dr. George A. Bentley received the majority of votes, and he was declared elected. The vote was then made manimous.

declared elected. The vote was then made unanimous.

The W. L. I. Corps gives a hop next Saturday night, and will continue the same through the season.

Every effortto make the full dress ball of the W. L. I. Corps on the 18th instant a success is being exerted. Col. Moore has invited on behalf of his command a large number of the officers of the National Guard. Invitations have also been sent to Gen. Gibson and tions have also been sent to Gen. Gibson and officers of his command at the birracks, as also to the cavalry post at Fort. Myer and also to the cavalry post at Fort Myer and at the signal office.

The ball room will be magnificently decorated for the occasion with flaga and bunting. Gen. Ordway and staff are also expected to be present. Col. Moore will hold a levee from 8 15 to 10 clock, and at the latter hour the ball commences. It will be the most brilliant affair ever held by the W. L. I. Corps, and there is no doubt of its being a great event in the history of the 1s battalion of the N. G. D. C.

Mrs. Brown's Injunction Case. There were some errors made in the state-nent yesterday in the equity cause of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown against Mills Dean and others, in which an injunction was granted. It seems that the lease under which Mrs. Brown claimed was not made by Mr. Dean. Brown claimed was not made by Mr. Dean, but by the owners of the property in 1885. No tender was made Mr. Dean on Nov. 14, as he did not own the property at that time. Mrs. Brown claimed that she tendered the money at that time at the Bank of Washington, but both the teller and the note clerk denied it under oath. Mr. Dean says that Justice Merrick made no comment whatever on the "course pursued," but granted the injunction on condition that Mrs. Brown paid up the back rent and gave a bond to answer for all damages, Mrs. Brown has not yet compiled with the conditions, and no injunction has yet been granted. Mr. John H. Ross appeared for Mr. Dean.

Y. M. C. A. Literary Society. At the regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Literary Society last evening an M. C. A. Literary Society last evening an interesting programme was rendered. Mr. H. L. Buell, the newly elected president, occupied the chair. The programme consisted of a plano solo by Miss Jackson, essay by Mr. Buell, declamation by G. W. Drew, after which followed the debate: "Resolved, That universal suffrage is desired." Affirmative, Messrs. Doty and Williams; negative, Messrs. Nesbit and McMillan. Decided in favor of the negative.

Meeting of Indian Commissioners. The board of Indian commissioners holds its annual meeting at the Riggs House on Friday morning, January 13, beginning at Friday morning, January 13, beginning at 10 o'clock. In the evening a public meeting will be held under the auspices of the Washington Women's National Indian Association, at All Souls' Church, corner of L and Fourteenth streets, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Peel, of Arkansas, chairman of the House committee on Indian affairs will preside, All those interested in the indian question and its solution are invited to attend.

Paying Off Old Scores. youth, was arrested on the complaint of Wm. Warren and John Jones, both colored, and was fined in the police court. The three had been companions and the arrest has neither been forgotten nor forgiven. List evening he met the two young men in Goat alley and a quarrel arose, during which he cut both of them so hadly that they had to be sent to Freedman's Hospital for treatment. Officer McNeal, who heard of the affair, arrested the assailant and locked him up at the second precinct station house, and was fixed in the police court. The thre wagon. Honors to Whom They Are Due, It seems that the credit of getting up and making a success of the department camp fire held last Tuesday night does not be lorg to Commander Burke and staff, but to the high privates. Gen. Daum, Capt. Cutter, Dr. Williams, D. W. Houghton, J. De Nean, and Douglass Syphax are among those who contributed to the success of the affair.

School of Journalism.

Mrs. M. L. Rayne, of the editorial staff of the Detroit Free Press, and director of the school of journalism in the District, will give an informal lecture at the parlors of the Y. M. C. ovanni" overture, finely rendered as it was, was listened to with a certain amount of impatience, for everybody was anxious to see the greatest musical genius of the age. The second number was Beethoven's concerto in C minor, (No. 3), and the gifted youngster tripped up the steps and, after responding with a couple of bowa to the greeting of the audience, commenced that beautiful and difficult composition; at its conclusion the applause was tremendous. His other selections were Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriceloso," Etude (Paganbin-Schuman); mazourka and waltz (Chopin), and Mendelssohn's "Rondo Brilliante." Much interest was excited by the "theme test," which is a feature of each concert. Dr. Kimball, the well-known musician, consented to provide the theme—a pretty simple melody—and the marvelous boy improvised variations that were as wonderful as they were beautiful, bringing down the house with his finale.

Frices of Nearly All the Stocks Drop a Few Points. NEW YORK, Jan. 11,-The stock market. while showing no decrease in the amount of business done, met with a moderate setback to-day, the lull in the bullish feeling prevalent for the past few days inducing the bears to make a demonstration against the list. The transactions in all except the the list. The transactions in all except the three leading stocks, St. Paul, Reading, and Lackawanna, were of little significance, the business being extremely small, and the changes in quotations for slight fractions only.

The opening was quiet and steady, and prices displayed a bardening tendency, which, however, disappeared after the first hour. Prices began to droop before noon, but there was little progress made inathe downward direction until toward delivery hour, when the market became more active and decidedly weak. The last hour was marked by no feature, and the close was duil and heavy at or near the lowest prices reached.

WHERE ARE HIS PARENTS?

A Runaway Washington Boy Found in Virginia.

Mr. John A. Blount, realling at Marlon, Smythe county, Va., writes to the Republican, making the following statement: A little boy has been in this town for three weeks or more, who is about 9 years of age. He is a bright, intelligent little fellow, and asys that he ran away from his father; who is a civil engineer in Washington, D. C. He gives his name as Clarroes livin Putnam, but will not give his father's Christian name, or I would write to him. If you know anything of his father please let him know where his son is. He claims to have tramped from Washington to this place. I would be thankful to any one who would give me such information if I were placed under the same circumstances.

Efforts to find any one of that name who bas lost a boy have been so far unsuccessful.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

Civero, Hamilton Co., Ind., Sept. 19, 1887.—

The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a tow four years old. When 17 months old a lunipappeared on her beet, which showly grow larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feeller all the time, seeming to lose the use of her isg, and fluolly quit wak-ing entrely. The middle fance and thomb of either hand, the hip joints become invive-cia, so that when seconder media old. coming hard. The hip joints because involved, so that when several ear months old account not stand, having blot the use on log and arm. Pairtial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrocked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and misobe. At each tenionities of age see was priced under the frequency of a prominent physician of the tentucut of a prominent physician of the ton, Mass, but at the end of tria minuth valued. ton, Mass, but at the end of tru minth's sind declined to such a degree that also was in a dying condition. This was in April, the We trock the child away not knowing what a do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over persuaded by friends to try "one but to" of Swirt's Strutch, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a changing the the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, not will be. for the better in her symptoms. We kept in sp, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many day-to-come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health usain. The salen hole of her checks has changed to a rosy thit. She is able to walk anywhere, her languer and melanelody have powers away, and she is now a billing encerful happy romping child. Should you wish to in crease your testimonals of nord of the py company come statementals of proof of the victure of 8, 8, 8, our manner next what we have said is turn a portion of what we two to you, allouid you wish to use them.
